

The Entrepreneurs Declaration of Independence

We the Entrepreneurs Vow...

1. I will not wait another day to continue amassing my fortune. The world is mine for the taking if I ask enough...
2. I will laugh and dance in the face of risk, because I know that I may lose some battles but will always win the war through passion and persistence...
3. I will join forces with the good people who believe in unity as opposed to competition, I will keep my creativity with me like a machete in the jungle...
4. From this day forward I am who I choose to be, I don't conform to anyone elses concept of myself, I only accept my own concept of what I am capable of and will stay clear on my vision of what it is I really want...
5. I will create meaning in my marketing and value in my service. The value of my service will be judged before "The People". The People give me the power to succeed, I am here to serve...
6. I will manage my minutes and moves like a marathon runner making every step and action count towards the journey..
7. I will laugh often and enjoy the ups as well as the downs, The balance brings me joy. I will share the message of success and support those who seek a better standard of living by sharing my knowledge...

I vow to uphold these entrepreneurial principles of success
